On a positive note...

*"Ljubljana is gorgeous, the venues were good and the workshops varied and fascinating.
Organisation was great"*

"I liked how well-organized the conference was and all the events were reachable by walking distance"

"Excellent people, experts, lecturers"

"The topics were very interesting, live interaction, quality lecturers"

"I very much liked the variety of sessions which were offered. Not only the number of sessions but also the content of topics which were offered, a wide field of very engaging content!"

What did you like the most/ least regarding the conference?

- + Meeting people and exchanging views, experiences*
- + The chance given to a lot of professionals to present their work*
- + The intercultural exchange, the good mixture of theory and practice in the workshop, the interaction at eye-level between presenters and audience*
 - + Excellent people, experts, lecturers*
- + Variety of speakers, especially renowned guests such as Peter Rober*
- The crowded rooms with some workshops*
- Not possible to enjoy the seminars and oral sessions (not enough space, seats, air, it was difficult to hear the lecturers due to street noise)*
- Lack of anticipation with regard to how many persons were likely to attend a workshop*

What was the most/least interesting event that you participated in?

- + A meeting on the future of psychotherapy
- + Peter Rober's talk (which should have been in a much larger venue)
 - + All events with Sittwell and Riger

- + Relationship addiction and the trauma of sexual abuse & Multigenerational household of families living with addiction
- + Round table discussion on LGBTQ and non-traditional family and relational contexts
 - Panel about research, key speakers at opening on Wednesdays
 - Günter Schiepek
 - Mony's tribute was too long. Last afternoon - too dry and flat
 - Dinner at the castle
 - Workshops that consumed most of the time in reading to us from the pp
